

Healthcare Patient Monitoring Dashboard

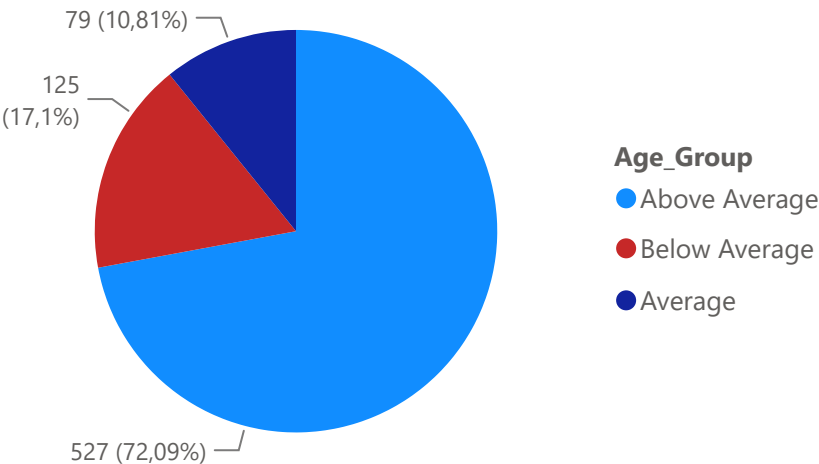

5

High Fever Cases

Patients by Fever Status

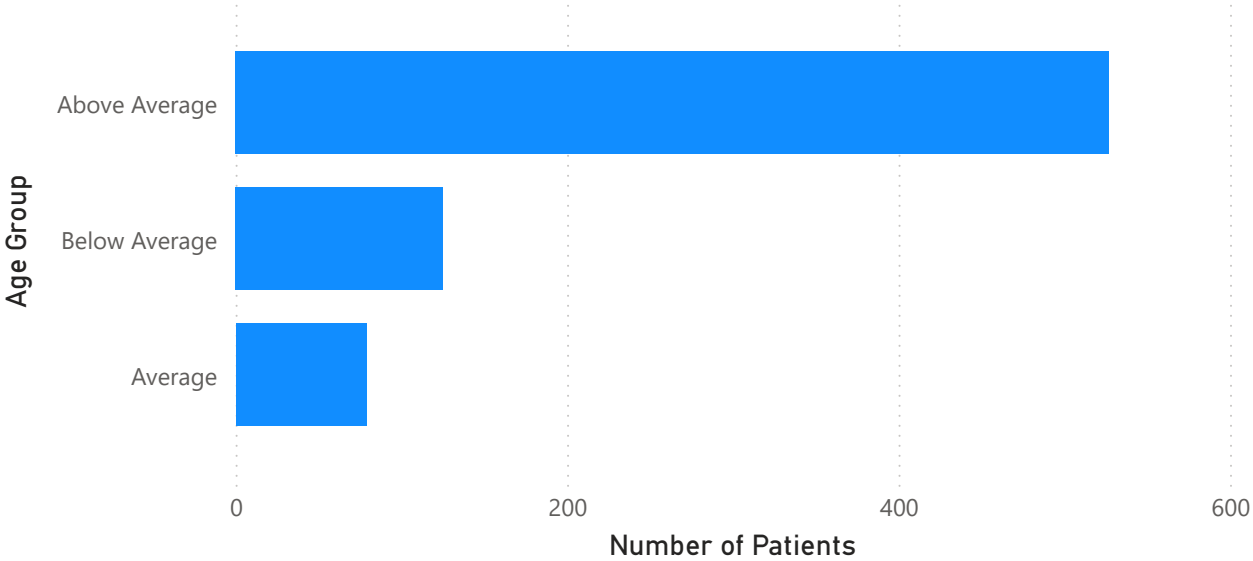

Patient Distribution by Age Group

Age vs Body Temperature

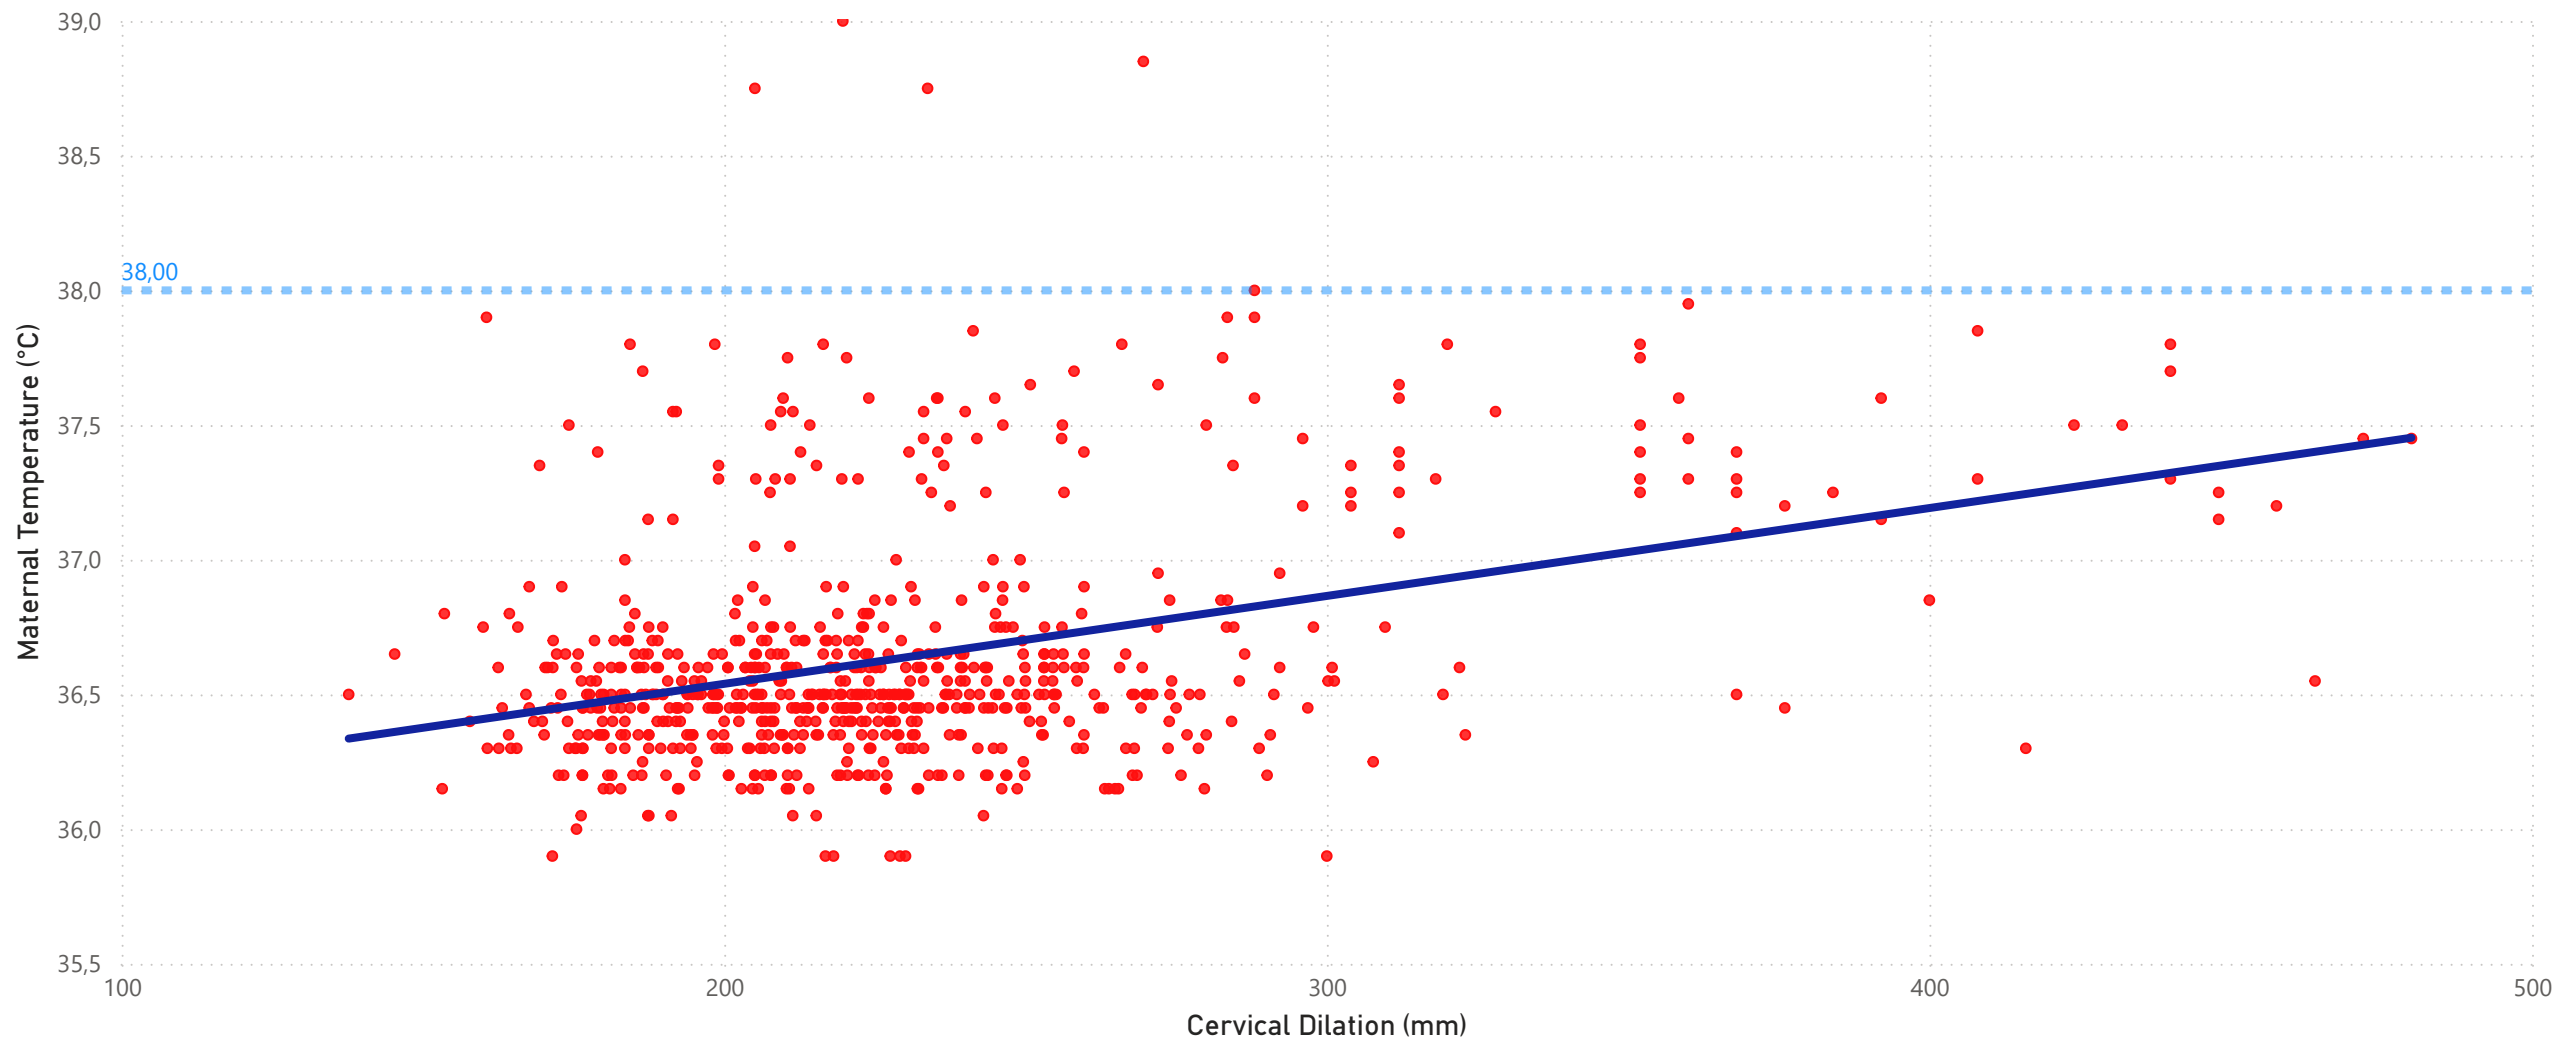

Patients by Age Group

Regression Analysis & Clinical Insights

Maternal Temperature vs Cervical Dilation

Key Insights:

- A slight positive relationship is observed between cervical dilation and maternal temperature.
- Most observations remain below the clinical fever threshold (38°C).
- The dispersion of the data suggests that additional clinical factors may influence maternal temperature.